Welcome to Spectra: A game about world domination via networks and the electromagnetic spectrum

There are three 'paths' the user can take:

Corporate: Follow Spectras orders, complete tasks, take down the resistance, rule the world

Resistance: Find and help the resistance, sabotage Spectra's systems, leak information, free the world

Self: Do a little bit of both, out both of them for being corrupt, hope the public will help you start something new

---

The Corporate path deals with privacy issues, encryption, the electromagnetic spectrum, and gatekeeping. As Spectra uses the electromagnetic spectrum to spy on people and they gate-keep certain signals from the public using encryptions.

The Resistance deals mostly with the open source movement, as they hate everything about Spectra and want a fully open source system.

The self made path takes both of these and combines them. Just taking the better of both ideas and combining them.

Credits: Savannah and CoPilot (help with naming things)